Another Democratic Senator says that a pro-test against the validity of the election would have to be inquired into, but in his opinion the Senators elected by the present session of the Legislature will be entitled to

The wind seemed to come PITTSBURG, June 29.—The Grand Jury of Allegheny county found true bills to-day against three hundred saloon-keepers for selling liquors without license. These prosecutions grow out of a difference between the butcher, who was driving in a wagon when liquor men and the State on the question of licenses. Most if not all the dealers offered sensible. He is still living and may recover.

CLEVELAND, June 29,-The distinguished astronomer, Prof. J. N. Stockwell, of the Case School of Applied Science, of this city, June 24th, 25th and 26th, I had the good for une to get an observation of its position with sufficient precision to enable me to determin approximately its path through space. The servations are very similar to the elements of a comet which appeared in 1807, and render it somewhat probable that it may be a return of that comet. We cannot, however, pro-nounce with certainty on that point until observations extending over a much larger p riod have been made and carefully discusse If we trace the path of the comet back t June 1st, we find that it then had a righ ascension of about five hours, and that it eclination was nearly forty degrees south In this position it 'could be well' observed in the southern hemisphere, and it is very prob-ably the same comet observed by Dr. Gould, at Cordoba, in the Argentine Republic, June 5th. Its distance from the point it traveled directly north and passed distance of 21,000,000 miles from the earth, reached its perchileon June 23d, when it was rom the earth. June 28th it was 29,000,000 and sunk below the horizon west befor only by daylight until after June 20th, which time it was so near to the sun that it was enveloped in the twilight while above the horizon, but its rapid motion sorthward carried it in three days so far rom the sun that it remained above the hori zon until the disappearance of twilight, a in the meantime it had passed through perihelion, and appeared as a fully devel-oped comet and of as magnificent dimensions as when first discovered in the northern hem isphere. It is, and has been, growing rapidly fainter since it was first discovered, and i will continue to do so until its final disap pearance. It will probably disappear to t naked eye within a couple of weeks, but it probable that it can be followed with t
